Cartomancy Predicting the future using playing cards is called cartomancy. In fact, cards were used to predict the future long before they were used for games.

The future's bright by GrÃjine Lavin Teacher's notes

While the prevalence of non-alcoholic fatty liver disease (NAFLD) and non-alcoholic steatohepatitis (NASH) continues to rise, with both conditions increasingly recognised in primary care and specialist practice, quantifying future disease burden has always been challenging. This is largely due to the diagnostic tools currently available for ...
